Kimone Smith, St. Andrew, Jamaica
BACHELOR, DIGITAL COMMUNICATIONS

I wouldn't change a thing about my time at Humber! During the program, I was encouraged to explore new ideas and to create thoughtful work. Some highlights of the program include industry professionals visiting to talk to us about their journey, classroom discussions, and working on my capstone project.

Along with my studies, being involved in the school community was very important to me. I worked for First-Year Experience (FYE), IGNITE, and volunteered with the International Centre throughout my four years. I loved being involved and helping students have a better experience.

In 2019, I worked as a Digital Communications intern for a public relations agency. At the end of my internship, I was fortunate to be offered a part-time position as I finished up my final year at Humber. Once I graduated, I was offered a full-time job as a Creative Account Coordinator. I have learned so much about public relations through this role and the creative industry as a whole. I'm very excited to keep learning and growing in this field!

Agnes Tjioe, Surabaya, Indonesia

DIPLOMA IN MULTIMEDIA DESIGN AND DEVELOPMENT

Prior to earning my diploma in Multimedia Design at Humber College, I completed my bachelor's degree in fashion in Singapore. I worked with an Australian children's couture brand, Mischka Aoki, as an Assistant Designer. In 2017, I decided to start my own bespoke fashion brand in Indonesia. Two years into my business, I realize that I still had so much more to explore, and now I'm in Toronto!

I believe that design is a form of communication and I always try to expand my design skills. One of the most meaningful lessons I've learned at Humber is how to be an empathetic designer. This entails thinking of my audience first and becoming more in-tune with the purpose and impact of the design rather than just caring about the aesthetic.

The work-integrated course that I took at Humber also helped me transition seamlessly from doing school work to taking part in an internship and working with clients. I worked as a Graphic Design Intern in the Consulate General of Indonesia in Toronto and the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, the latter of which was thanks to Humber's CareerConnect job portal. Beyond the internship, the lecturers at Humber were very proactive in finding "clients" to take part in our various industry projects, from non-profit organizations to the City of Toronto. These industry projects helped me get used to actual work environments with clients and they made really unique portfolio pieces to showcase in a job search.

Humber's website also exposed my portfolio to the right people in the industry which helped me secure my current full-time job in a creative agency based in Halifax.

Aditya Dutta, New Delhi, India
ADVANCED DIPLOMA, GAME PROGRAMMING

Video games have always been a part of my life, but I never thought of making a career out of it. Until one day I was playing a Ubisoft game and it inspired me to follow a path in the video game industry.

Game Programming is a video game-focused program, but the skills you learn are transferable to other industries. Depending on your career goals, you can either choose to work for a video game studio or a software developer.

Thanks to Humber's networking opportunities, I landed my first job while I was still in my first semester. For the past three years, I have worked with two different companies as a game developer and a junior developer. Since 2019, I have been working part-time as a programmer for UP360, a start-up based in Toronto.

During the same time, I also worked as a Peer Tutor at Humber College and initiated an ongoing project that involved the Faculty of Media & Creative Arts and the Barrett Centre for Technology Innovation. The goal was to build a financially affordable breath controller that would help people who have motor neuron disease so they can interact more easily with video games.

I also represented Humber College at hackathons across North America, such as Hack the North, BostonHacks and MHacks. These hackathons helped me gain new skills and also provided me with the opportunity to work with real-world issues.

 A Humber education helps you go from classroom to career, gaining real-world experience along the way.

HOW DO I FIND A PLACE TO LIVE IN THE GREATER TORONTO AREA (GTA)?

I found accommodation by looking at listings on Kijiji.ca and places4students.com. I was also a very active member of a few Facebook accommodation groups and that was helpful too.

BACHELOR OF COMMERCE (ACCOUNTING),

My experience participating in my two online courses at Kansai Gaidai University (KGU) have been phenomenal. My motivation to join the KGU course was mainly due to my drive to travel, and currently with the global pandemic, I am unable to travel, and this allowed me to experience the culture and education while being at home in Canada. I now have more experience working with different cultures, and a better understanding of virtual meeting, and work.

In many ways, words cannot describe the benefit it has had for me as it has changed my outlook on my own studies as a student at Humber, and the way I will be working professionally in the future.

Tian Xiaoxuan (Jason), Henan, China DIPLOMA, FITNESS AND HEALTH PROMOTION

Humber is more than a college to me; it's a place that gave me a sense of belonging. Being an international student can be challenging, but with the resources and support available on campus including IGNITE Student Life, I had the most memorable years of my college life.

In my first year, I created the Humber Chinese Students Association – a platform for Chinese students to share our culture, values and traditions with everyone else, especially the Lunar New Year, which is the biggest cultural event celebrated in China and other Asian countries.

Gaining international work experience is important and that's why I worked part-time at the International Centre and then as a First-Year Experience mentor. You make so many new friends by volunteering on campus and by attending events. Apart from studying, I enjoy going to the gym and taking meditation classes.

In my free time, I explore Toronto. You will find me at Woodbine Beach in summer (yes, Toronto has beaches). And in winter, I go snowboarding at Blue Mountain.

Raju Tamang, Thimphu, Bhutan

DIPLOMA, HEATING, REFRIGERATION AND AIR CONDITIONING TECHNICIAN

My first semester went very well, although I had a few difficulties. Coping with online classes was a struggle for me initially because it was my first time doing so, and it was difficult for me to learn from the online sessions. Maybe it was because I'm accustomed to in-person classes and the fact that I really liked in-person lab classes where I had a far better understanding of the lessons. However, one thing I am proud of is how I was able to cope and adapt to everything very quickly here at Humber. I found everyone friendly and every aspect of the college experience enjoyable just after a few weeks of classes.

My experience at Humber so far has been worth it because I am experiencing new things by breaking out of my shell and learning the importance and value of exploring and being sociable. Every day is a new learning experience for me here at Humber and I truly enjoy it. I am hoping for newer learning and even more experiences in the rest of the semesters.

ONTARIO GRADUATE CERTIFICATE, INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SOLUTIONS

I currently work as an IT Solution Developer at TD Bank. The Ontario Graduate Certificate in Information Technology Solutions allowed me to improve my experience and knowledge of open source technologies. An international education has helped me apply my skills to existing business challenges in the work force and I've received seven Spotlight Awards and one Starlight Award since graduating.

Humber's teaching approach and topics are unique because it incorporated a balance of hands-on and theoretical knowledge and business communication skills, whereas back in Russia it was purely theoretical.

BACHELOR OF COMMERCE, DIGITAL BUSINESS MANAGEMENT

I was concerned initially about the cold in Canada as well as the overall adjustment. However, things eased for me when I found the Black Academic Success and Engagement (BASE) program. I found out more about it and started volunteering there because I like what they're about – focusing on Black students and ensuring that Black students have a space at the college. Being in a multicultural city, I really value that, but sometimes I want to be with my own people from my own culture.

I took part in workshops, talks and general conversations in the BASE office which eventually led to my hiring as a special projects assistant. I worked my way up to program assistant and made a positive impact welcoming students at the BASE front desk.

DIPLOMA, CULINARY MANAGEMENT

Canada has a lot of opportunities for international students and the program lessons are very detailed; we learn everything from basic skills, like how to use each knife properly and to build a dish correctly, to the emerging trends in Canada. The program also helps you to develop your own cooking style and put your skills in practice including serving a four-course menu for guests at the Humber Room.

We also participate in many events hosted by Humber. These events give us the opportunity to connect with the culinary industry, including the country's best chefs. Students are often competing in on-campus, national and international competitions as well, which gives the chance to showcase our skills and techniques.

ENGLISH FOR ACADEMIC PURPOSES (EAP)

My path to getting accepted into Humber and getting into Canada was quite long and strenuous at times. First, I had to make sure I could get the medical care that I needed in Canada as I have a disability. Secondly, immigration wasn't easy due to language barriers. My family was also afraid to let me go as this was my first time travelling on my own, let alone to another country without knowing the outcome.

However, once I eventually arrived in Canada, I felt very relaxed as everyone was so nice, helpful and very kind overall.

I chose to learn English at Humber so that I could communicate well with my colleagues and teachers, eventually complete university studies in Canada, and get into medical school to help similar kids in my position who have a disability. The pandemic certainly put a strain on my life, as I had the virus and had to isolate. I also found it a lot harder in terms of learning during the pandemic because online is less interactive. However, I do enjoy the fact that the government and Humber really do care. I was able to find support through many avenues during these hard times such as Humber's Accessible Learning Services which has been great to me helping me get a laptop to continue my studies during the pandemic. In addition, they gave me more information in regards to getting help financially. If I can point to something I'm proud of, I would say my quick learning skills and networking skills which helped me make a life for myself. I am already a permanent resident of Canada, I now have a job, I have many good friends and I wouldn't have it any other way.

Grace Timanywa, Kampala City, Uganda

DIPLOMA, ADVERTISING AND MARKETING COMMUNICATIONS

I arrived in Canada late because my visa was delayed, so I missed the Orientation. I was scared about finding my way around the campus and making new friends. But soon that fear vanished, as I met many students in my classroom. We started working on group projects and became good friends in just a few weeks as everyone was so friendly and welcoming.

In the middle of my first semester of my diploma in Advanced Journalism, I realized that I wanted to pursue my passion for social media. I decided to switch my program to a diploma in Advertising and Marketing Communications. My new program was exactly what I was looking for; I studied digital marketing and social media, and also how advertising and marketing work in Canada. In the last semester, our professors took us to visit different marketing agencies, which gave us a chance to network with industry professionals, learn about their jobs, and help us secure internships.

For my capstone project, I worked together with my classmates. Our group created a marketing campaign for BMW, to promote their vehicles. It was a fun project and a great way to meet industry professionals. I was fortunate to secure an internship at Art Metropole, a not-for-profit organization. I was working with their social media team; I learned many new skills such as how to run email campaigns and distribute publication materials. I also gained knowledge of diverse social media tools, and a few design skills.

Gabi Hentschke, Porto Alegre, Brazil

BACHELOR OF INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

I moved here to Canada about four years ago with my family so, overall, my experience living in Toronto has been quite unique.

During my studies here at Humber, I've always tried to be as active as possible because there are so many different activities and events that are offered to the students as well as different supports. I would mostly utilize the services from the writing centre. I would always participate at the different events that were offered by First Year Experience (FYE) and IGNITE (Humber's student union).

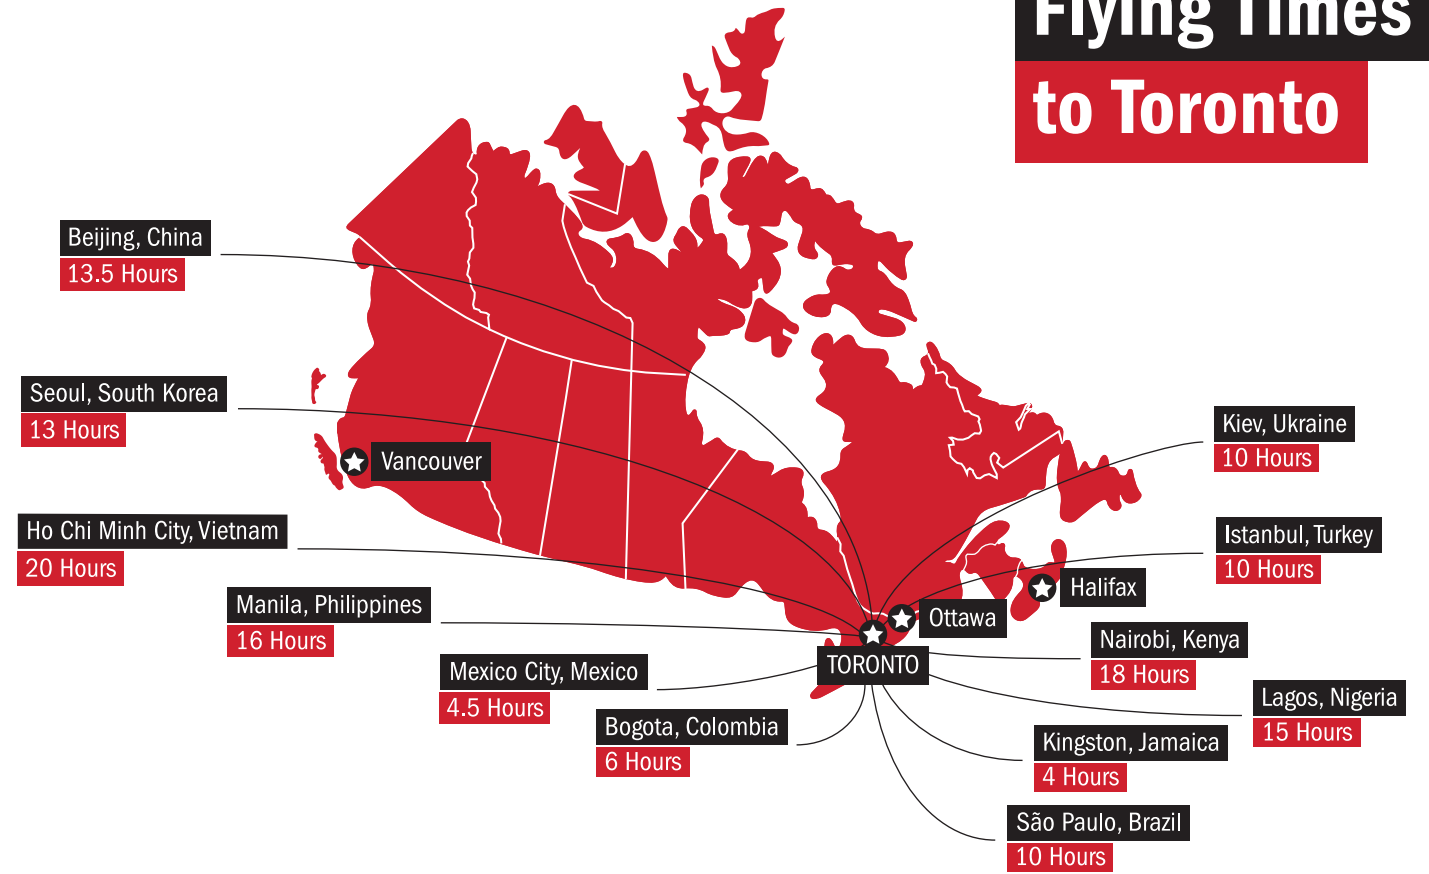

Through my engagement at Humber, I had the chance to connect with my peers and learn about their experiences as well as their difficulties. This has really inspired me to run for IGNITE's Board of Directors, which enhances my passion for community engagement. I'm about to start my second term on the Board. I also had the opportunity to develop a sustainability action plan for IGNITE, so once this is approved by the Board, then IGNITE will have an official commitment to sustainability.

As for some of my difficulties, I faced most of my challenges as soon as I moved here because I did not have friendships yet. So just being part of my community and engaging in those different opportunities that were offered to me at Humber as well as in places where I volunteered were really important for me. I developed friendships that are still very strong and are some of my best friends to date.
